

What's the "Center" of Your Field?

Use the diagram to place subfields found at the center of your discipline and those at the periphery. Now, think about where women and/or minorities tend to be represented? Are they more likely to be center or periphery? What are the consequences of this assessment for faculty recruitment and evaluation of candidate scholarship?

– might consider: methods, topics, time period, geographical area, theoretical vs. applied, sources, etc.
